The NSW Government is offering fee-free scholarships for up to 50,000 students a year, starting in July 2015.

If you're aged between 15 and 30, eligible for a concession fee and are thinking of enrolling in a Certificate qualification (Certificate I to Certificate IV), then you might be eligible for a new government scholarship.

The scholarship means you can complete your study without paying fees, provided you start your course after 1 July 2015.
